The Georgia Junior Science & Humanities Symposium welcomes sponsors and donors of Special Awards to encourage and reward Georgia's rising young science researchers. We hope that you or your business, department, or organization would like to be known as a sponsor of this most prestigious competition. There are several ways to contribute: you may sponsor a particular activity, such as the awards luncheon or provide items for the student welcome bags, or you might sponsor a Special Award to encourage research excellence in your field, or to reward a trait or topic you value.
