2018 Advanced Placement® U.S. Government & Politics

About the AP® U.S. Government & Politics Summer Institute
This is an exciting time to be an AP U.S. Government and Politics teacher, whether new or experienced, as it is one of the most interesting, dynamic courses taught in high school. This class will be focusing on the redesign of the AP U.S. Government and Politics exam which begins with the 2018-19 school year and which requires that every teacher submit a new AP Audit for the course. We will focus on the 5 Big Ideas of the redesigned course: Constitutional Democracy, Civil Liberties and Civil Rights, American Political Culture and Beliefs, Political Participation, and Interaction Among Branches, by reviewing essential content along with developing lesson plans that maximize student engagement. Emphasis will be placed on constructing formative and summative assessments that conform to the redesigned format.

Institute Goals:
- Familiarize participants with the redesigned AP U.S. Government and Politics Course and the additional resources provided by the College Board.
- Aid participants in preparing a new AP Government Audit.
- Review essential political skills and develop lesson plans which help students develop the necessary skills to be successful on the exam.
- Explore the 5 Big Ideas of the new course and construct activities which maximize student engagement with the material.
- Develop formative and summative assessments which measure student progress for the redesigned exam.

Tentative Agenda:
Day One: Overview of Redesign and Preparing a New Syllabus
  Topic Focus: Constitutional Democracy
Day Two: Multiple Choice Strategies and Quantitative Analysis
  Topic Focus: American Political Culture and Beliefs and Political Participation
Day Three: Writing Strategies for the Redesigned Exam
  Topic Focus: Interaction Among Branches
Day Four: Review Strategies and Research Projects
  Topic Focus: Civil Rights and Civil Liberties

Instructor:
Suzanne Bailey has been teaching AP U.S. Government since 1989. She currently teaches AP U.S. and Comparative Government and Politics as well as AP Micro and Macroeconomics at Virgil Grissom High School in Huntsville, Alabama. For each of the past three years Ms. Bailey has led the state of Alabama in the number of students taking the AP Government national exam. Her open enrollment policy, coupled with her teaching strategies, has enabled many students to have the opportunity to be successful in a rigorous college-level class. As a Lead Teacher for the Alabama A+ College Ready Program, Ms. Bailey is currently engaged in expanding AP Government courses for teachers and students across the state of Alabama in partnership with the Alabama Department of Education and a number of humanities and civics-related organizations. She conducts AP Government teacher training as well as presenting Saturday review sessions for AP Government students. In addition, Ms. Bailey served on the Test Development Committee for AP Comparative Government and Politics from 2006 until 2014. As the College Board Advisor for Comparative, she edited two AP Workshop Curriculum Modules and made presentations at the National AP, NCSS, and APSA Teaching and Learning Conferences. Ms. Bailey has participated in the AP Government Reading since 2000 as a Reader and Table *College Board, AP, Advanced Placement and the acorn logo are registered trademarks of the College Board.
