

University of Georgia Web Developer Coding Bootcamp

Course Alternative Payment Option, Discount & Scholarships

The registration fee is $10,000 (US)

If you wish to break your course payment into two separate payments, you may do so. For more information regarding this payment option, please e-mail us at questions@georgiacenter.uga.edu or call +1-706-542-3537.

Those paying course fees via this alternative payment option will need to follow the schedule below:

- › 1st Payment of $5,000 (US) is due to complete your enrollment into the full Web Developer Coding Bootcamp certificate program and prior to the start of part 1 of the course curriculum.
- › 2nd and Final Payment of $5,000 (US) is due prior to the start of part 2 of the course curriculum.

Confirmation of your registration will be sent to you by e-mail upon receipt of your payment. Please contact the University of Georgia Center for Continuing Education if you do not receive confirmation.

Alumni Discount

A discount is available for participants who are members of the University of Georgia Alumni Association. For more information about this alumni benefit, please refer to the University of Georgia Alumni Association website.

Scholarships

To make the Web Developer Coding Bootcamp more accessible and affordable to a broader sector of the population, The Software Guild proudly offers the following three new scholarships:

- › University Award: The $2,000 award is available to graduates of the University of Georgia and to students who have completed a University of Georgia Center for Continuing Education program. To qualify for the award, UGA alumni and previous UGA Center for Continuing Education students will need to provide documentation of their graduate or program completion status.
- › Women In Tech Award: The $2,000 award is available to female enrollees. Female students qualify based on self-identification.
- › Veterans Who Code Award: The $2,000 award is available to eligible military personnel in the following groups: reservists, veterans, and/or active-duty service members. To qualify for the award, students must present proof of eligibility defined as military original statement of service or certificate of release or discharge.

Scholarship Terms and Conditions: Scholarship recipients must successfully complete the admissions process and be admitted into the fully online Web Developer Coding Bootcamp program and begin the course prior to December 31, 2018 to be granted award funds. Students must also be in good standing, as defined by The Software Guild and the University of Georgia Center for Continuing Education.

The $2,000 award will be noted as a reduction to the total course fee and will be applied to the payment required to complete course registration for the full Web Developer Coding Bootcamp program. Scholarships may not be combined.

Refund and Program Cancellation Policies

The University of Georgia Center for Continuing Education will gladly issue a refund, less a $275 processing fee, for cancellation requests received in writing at questions@georgiacenter.uga.edu by 5:00 p.m. on the tenth business day after the start date of the program. Business days are Monday through Friday, excluding University of Georgia holidays. NO REFUNDS will be issued after the tenth business day following the course start date.

If a program is canceled for any reason, the University of Georgia Center for Continuing Education & Hotel will not be responsible for any cancellation or change charges assessed in regards to travel costs.

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
Center for Continuing Education & Hotel