COURSE DESCRIPTION

For those looking for facilitated and structured guidance as they prepare, the University of Georgia Center for Continuing Education offers the Human Resources Management Certificate program led by SHRM®-certified instructors, who combine the SHRM Learning System with their teaching to facilitate a comprehensive and detailed review of the current SHRM BASK. Our expert instructors will help you to identify areas of strength—and build on them—as well as areas in which you need further concentrated study in preparation for either certification exam.

The course offerings are strategically scheduled to end as the SHRM certification exam window opens. This allows for an in-depth study right before you sit for the exam.

For upcoming course details, please visit our course webpage.
